Gentlemen,

No. lot 280 was not a contemporaneous striking. But your limit of £15 for it as modern was too low. Spinks have it at £18. 5. 0. I have paid more than this (20£) but kept it too long for me to risk buying another. Compliments

Yours faithfully W Talbot Ready

Gentlemen,

Your letter of Nov. 6 has duly reached me and I have to thank you for your cheque discharging the balance due to me from your last purchases, per your Mr H. Lehman personally.

I am sorry to have to grant you the rebate you wish for on such pieces of mine as you are at present holding on approval. "I would if I could, but I can't" as the children say.

And I feel pretty sure that Mr. H. C. is mistaken in his 10% impressions: I know that in the case of many of the pieces this would more than represent my gain. And another thing that makes me think this is his forgetfulness (your kinder phrase) as to the time you were to have them. He told me his intention was to mail them to Pasadena, asked for a "month or six weeks" & I gave him two months. This is not that I am impatient, mind - only at their not coming back by Oct. but to remind you of the terms as I took them down. Again my thanks & kindest regards to you & Mrs. Eddy.

Yours faithfully, Frederick Keeley.

My Dear Sirs,

Ihave to acknowledge the due arrival of your letter and to thank you for the draft you enclosed in payment for your last purchases of me as per my a/c of May 12th. '05

I am sorry you have so long a quiet season in the states: it is bad and long enough here, Still in this matter we can give you some little sort of a lead. This in itself is noteworthy. Are you too far off from the coin-collecting centre? I venture this because I hear that it is to the U.S.A.that most of the coins of the redoubtable Hirsch go. This last lot of his seems to me more numerous than beautiful, either in point of rarity or beauty, With compliments and thanks,

Believe me to remain, Gentlemen, Yours faithfully,
